ENGLAND SHOWS THE WAY

Some of the folk who think the mother country is a dull old place are living in a stagnant routine—quite unlike our own building progressiveness—should take time to make a trip there. Failing that, they might read some of the excellent British travel magazines.

Looking over the June 20 issue of the Architect and Building News published in London, under the heading of "Contracts Placed Country" for the week, one reads the following item:

LEEDS—The following contracts have been placed by the Housing Committee of the City Council for the erection of houses on the Hulton Moore Estate:

Section 1, 396 houses and flats

(builders name) £118,014

Section 2, 456 houses and flats

(builders name) £124,411

Section 3, 394 houses and flats

(builders name) £123,076

There are many other items of large expenditure, but none so large as these contracts let by the Housing Committee for 1,246 houses and flats for a total price of nearly two and a quarter million dollars.

In the same issue the town of Barry calls for tenders for 30 houses and flats to be built for 90 houses; Liverpool is calling for tenders for 610 houses and Newcastle-on-Tyne is calling for tenders for 335 houses.

Here in the city of Edmonton, capital of Alberta, we have had one loan granted by the Domestic and Canada and the private loaning institutions for the building of one small residence.

It isn't that we don't need houses. There are hundreds of people in Edmonton anxious to build if only the necessary financing can be arranged.

Within the past forty-eight hours we have witnessed the spectacle of the provincial government taking money from the pockets of the people who the financial interests have forced upon the province. If it succeeds it will cut into the pockets of the people who are the beneficiaries of the government's policy.

For motives of self-protection the loaning institutions of Canada had better end the policy of loaning money to the government.

Just this week the government has made drastic action.

The Passing Show

in this column are not necessarily those of the Edmonton Bulletin—EDITOR.

It is not one of those who find pleasure, or even consolation, in the misfortune of others, but I saw a sight the other day that gave me a thrill of comfort. Two truck drivers at a downtown corner, each with a wheel of the right way, ran their trucks into each other.

After having to surrender

the right of way a thousand times to a truck merely because it had the weight and a litigious young driver at the wheel, it seemed fair that two drivers with trucks of equal weight should fight it out on equal terms. Time was when I used to wish to be a truck driver in my old age so as to get even with the young truck drivers—who'll all be driving limousines by then—when I have put me off the pavement or stolen the right of way at street corners.

I have a better hope now. I am looking to the time, only a few months distant, when truck drivers will be able to fight it out between themselves at every street corner, handing out Prosperity Bonbons to each other to make good the damage.

I heard of a real optimist a few days ago.

He lives near Croftland and is a farmer. No

Twenty Years Ago

From the Files of The Edmonton Bulletin

Little more than a year has passed since the Duck Lake fight. Crozier, who led the loyal forces on that occasion, has lost his position and left the country. Gabriel Dumont, who led the rebel forces, is pardoned, his property restored and he is free to return to his home. The settlers around Edmonton who for having chosen to stand by the government were punished by the French. Parliament has refused a hearing in reference to their losses. The people of South branch who were hanged and front of the rebellion, have had their claims for losses listened to attentively and no doubt will have them paid. The conclusion is irretrievable that Crozier and the Edmonton people were on the wrong side during the rebellion.

When W. T. Jackson of Qu-Appelle at the last session of the House of Commons declared war upon hizzoner the lieutenant-governor it was commonly supposed that he had thereby incurred the implacable wrath of the government upon whom the blame of Mr. Dewdney's short-comings necessarily fell. It was thought by some that if Mr. Jackson escaped being politically hanged, drawn and quartered it was due to the dimension of a grease spot, he would be lucky. . . . But did not work that way. Instead he was hanged, drawn and quartered at head, or being compelled to eat his being sat upon and completely squashed, he held direct by the same administration of the policy of a railway 3200 ft. long, and possessed by a free land grant of 6400 acres a the most important of them is that the

Pleasant Visit To The Motherland

The views expressed by Mr. R. T. Elliott, K.C., in this column are his own personal views and not necessarily those held by The Edmonton Bulletin—EDITOR.

The question as to whether or not the Ottawa parliament had power to pass the "Treaty Acts" sponsored by ex-Prime Minister Bennett are of trifling importance. The real question, in each instance, is whether or not the Ottawa parliament and the provincial legislatures are in favor of each act, or are opposed to such acts.

In the Attorney General Ontario vs. Attorney General Canada, Case, (1932) Appeal Case, page 581, Lord Chancellor Earl Loreburn said:

"In 1867 the desire of Canada for a definite constitution embracing the entire Dominion was embodied in the British North America Act. Now, there can be no doubt that under this organic instrument the powers distributed between the Dominion on the one hand and the provinces on the other hand cover the whole area of self-government within the whole area of Canada. It would be subversive of the entire scheme and policy of the Act to assume that any point of internal self-government was withheld from Canada."

Insofar as the Dominion and the provinces agree on any act it can be brought into force by concurrent federal and provincial legislation. There is notable authority for this statement.

When the United Church of Canada was in process of formation, there were questions of some nicety respecting the powers of the Dominion and of the provinces. Accordingly a Dominion Act was enacted, and ratifying the Act was a condition of its province. There has never been any trouble about this in the last forty years.

Of course the United Church would not be able to devote thousands of dollars to finance pleasant visits to the motherland by learned gentlemen intent on arguing before the Privy Council. The taxpayers' money is something else again.

The Quebec election and the Manitoba election should demonstrate that the taxpayers are now awake and cannot be handled by explanation. The demand today is for common sense, efficient action. The previous methods are out.

ple of Alberta are to learn—again they should—use their own energy to achieve their own emancipation there must be a complete reversal of present policies.

It is not too much to say THAT THE GOVERNMENT HAS DONE EVERYTHING THAT INGENUITY COULD CONCEIVE TO DAMAGE THE CREDIT OF THE PEOPLE OF ALBERTA. It is not too much to say that the Government has used every power to bring every internal financial problem to the people's attention, and to bring every internal credit system without any disturbance or loss to the business world.

It is not too much to say that the Government has used every power to bring every internal financial problem to the people's attention, and to bring every internal credit system without any disturbance or loss to the business world.

It could have relieved every debtor within the Province of two kinds of his interest burdens without incurring loss on creditors. It preferred to leave the burden of usury. It could have made immediate provision for the health service, well financed and adequately planned. It preferred to leave the people without proper service and without medical care.

It could have given during the present summer season, abundance of work to the unemployed, and to the trades and the wide range of subsidiary industries dependent thereon.

SUMMER DONE
NOTHING DONE
It is referred to as the summer months drift away with nothing done. The building season is now well high past. It could have made ample provision for the unemployed.

The fact is the Alberta Government has sold out to the interests of a few, and it knows nothing of what social credit means. It knows less than nothing of its possibilities. In a general way the Government has sold out to the interests of a few, and it knows nothing of what social credit means.

CHALLENGE OF FAR EAST SAID TO BE SERIOUS

Lord Snell Says Eastern Peoples Resent Western Domination

ORILLIA, Ont., Aug. 7.—The challenge of the far east to western civilization was described as serious Thursday by Lord Snell, Labour leader in the British House of Lords, as he concluded a series of speeches in the House of Lords policy before the Canadian Institute on Economics and Politics at Geneva Park, near here.

NEW CHALLENGE
"From the east has come this new challenge of Asia," he said. A challenge, he explained, based on the resentment of the eastern peoples against western domination and the fact that eastern peoples were not to be considered as subjects of the western world. There was something to be said for their own civilization.

CONSCIOUS OF STRENGTH
"This awakened east is conscious of her strength and of her grievances with regard to space and racial discrimination," he said. "The east is now conscious of her strength and of her grievances with regard to space and racial discrimination."

MAINTAIN INTEGRITY
The attitude of the British government to that is to maintain integrity of China and regenerate her. The British maintain Japan's power must be strong enough to suppress in her own sea but not to be a threat to the peace of the world.

EXPENSIVE PROCEDURE
Lord Snell disapproved of the latter part and said that to build a fleet was an expensive procedure. The other was a solution so long as the nations could cooperate with one another.

MAINTAIN INTEGRITY
Japan is superficially strong, he said, but she has enormous problems financial and otherwise, he said.

MAINTAIN INTEGRITY
In answer to a question Lord Snell said there is a possibility the British might be forced to submerge in the identity of China.

MAINTAIN INTEGRITY
The British position is weakening in the Pacific but still strong. We feel that England, America and Russia must cooperate in the Pacific for all time," he said.

MAINTAIN INTEGRITY
Zachariah Bragdon, a Harvard student, said he had been a student on record to earn his way through college.

MAINTAIN INTEGRITY
Scrip is good enough for everyone, he said. The members of the cabinet and the Government.

MAINTAIN INTEGRITY
There is no need for the cabinet to be interchangeable with the members of the cabinet. It would then pass into general circulation and the quantity in demand would increase ten fold.

MAINTAIN INTEGRITY
Before ever the scrip was issued the Government had decided to protect the people against the scrip. This has not been done. The sad end of the story is not yet.

Vacant-Lot Youngsters Build Very Latest In Merry-Go-Round Have Carnival Thrill

The "Hot Tomatoes," very latest in home-made carnival thrill rides, has made its appearance in a vacant lot in the 9000 block on 24th avenue on the south side, and is fast becoming the centre of amusement for the neighborhood children, and the source for grey hair for the neighborhood mothers.

The product of the fertile imagination and ingenious handiwork of Jack Winters, Gordon Neilson and Kenny Noble, three of the neighborhood boys who have just come into their teens, the thrill-maker was constructed entirely from materials such as can be found lying by the back fence of anybody's yard.

An upright post, standing about four feet clear of the ground, a rusty old railroad spike driven into the top, a crossbar of a salvaged piece of two by six, about ten feet long, two old tire crates, hung from the end of the crossbar by wire and chain, two twelve-year-old "mashers" to supply the power, and the machine is complete.

The machine incorporates all the features of a carnival thrill ride, and it is guaranteed to make the rider sick.

When the reporter arrived on the scene, Thursday morning, Kenny Noble was running the business, while his two partners had been busy picking. He agreed to an interview.

Demolition was asked for, and the youngsters were asked to stop. They were finally asked to stop. They were finally asked to stop. They were finally asked to stop.

PIGEON DERBY TO THOMPSON

"Queen Mary" got champion long range pigeon, bringing to "Queen Mary" Thompson, well-known long-range pigeon trainer, arrived in the city at 7 a.m. today, to win the Capital City Pigeon Racing Club's annual winter to Edmonton race.

Nine birds were set free in Winnipeg Sunday at 11 a.m. and hundreds have held the birds back, and "Queen Mary" is the only one to reach the city so far. But Owen, official timer, placed the time of all birds place second in the race last year.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

"Cynics say that the modern girl would rather have a motor car than a baby. Which would you prefer?" asked the Bulletin's inquiring reporter today.

Here's what they say:

MABEL CLONEY, clerk: "I'll take a car, because a car can run for you and you have to run for the baby."

NARY WOLFE, waitress: "Give me the car, because a car can take you places but a baby stops you from going places, so I'll choose the car."

DORA MONAGHAN, school teacher: "I'll take the car for now and will probably look into the baby question a little later on."

VERNA HANNA, victrol: "Why there is no comparison. I would rather have the baby."

MYRTLE GRASDA, student: "I'm not thinking of babies at present. If it came down to a decision I think that I would rather have the baby."

DOROTHY WILLIAMSON, clerk: "A car by far. You don't have to stay home."

IVY LYNN, clerk: "A car takes you places and a baby stops you from going places, so I'll choose the car."

JOAN HARRIS, stenographer: "I'm a funny girl. I don't care if the baby would be my choice."

CLARA LITTLE, clerk: "I'm not interested in babies at the present. The car would be my choice."

NORA BLAKE, stenographer: "I've got the car and I'm not interested in a baby."

FLORENCE BIESE, stenographer: "Neither my good man, neither my baby will cause me plenty of trouble and I don't like trouble."

HELEN LISTER, student: "I would like the car because I've got plenty of time before I start thinking about a baby."

ALBERTA GOLFERS FIGHT AT WINNIPEG

LOOKING THEM OVER

By JACK KELLY

Hold That Panther—They're All Trying!—Famous Dead Heat May Be Re-Run in Next Week's Meet

When the Ponoka Panthers came to town last night and took a 4-3 win over the Cardinals, they hoisted themselves into a lead that is going to take a lot of smart ball to whittle down. They are not safely ensconced in a playoff berth yet, but their chances of being there when the league schedule finishes on August 20 are mighty rosy.

It was a ball game that was worth any fan's money. In fact it was anyone's game right up until the last last pitch and put-out in the ninth inning. Both of these bitter rivals turned in a game unmarred by a single squabble and they completed the full nine innings in just one hour and 28 minutes, which is bustling and no fooling.

A good piece of the credit for this belongs to George Green, who umpired at the plate. On the whole, George got through the game with less flogging on his calls than has been seen at Renfrew Park for some time. That simple statement is no small feat on the back in this league of fiery temperamental ball players who don't take a decision lying down.

May Re-Run Dead Heat

As preparations are rushed ahead for Edmonton's big race meet next week, the boulevards are buzzing with horse talk. In fact the town has taken on a distinctly Kentuckyian complexion—Newmarketian to you from the right little line.

One of the most interesting bits of gossip going the rounds of horsemen today is that Polvoe Pride and Pennewise, the two horses that ran a dead heat here during the Exhibition meet, may be run in a special matched race during the coming meet for a side-bet between the owners. They tell me that W. J. Potter, whose wife is the owner of Polvoe Pride, is willing to run the race over again at seven furlongs with the same wagers, even furlongs, and a mile than has been seen at Renfrew Park for some time. That simple statement is no small feat on the back in this league of fiery temperamental ball players who don't take a decision lying down.

Such a race would be a rare treat for the fans and should draw plenty of spectators.

Hall of Fortune Peaks Up

In preparation for this coming seven-day meet, the post-rumored building out at the Exhibition grounds track is being re-vamped into a plant that will provide increased comfort and facilities for the bettors.

The most encouraging news, however, is that the track has tightened down greatly since the Exhibition meet, and with last night's rain should again be the fastest track on the western circuit. Fast workouts of the various horses started in fine furlongs, and a mile than has been seen at Renfrew Park for some time. That simple statement is no small feat on the back in this league of fiery temperamental ball players who don't take a decision lying down.

Most horses have a favorite distance—april, middle distance, or over the mile, but there is one horse out in the barns at the Exhibition grounds right now that likes any distance you care to name. It is Dundro, owned by Mrs. A. Brook and trained by Jimmy McFarlane. On the western circuit this season, the speedy six-year-old of Dunlin-Melroide has won at five furlongs, seven furlongs, and a mile and a half, all within a few weeks. What is more, Dundro has led the way in each of his races with Jockey Solomon enjoying an "arm-chair" ride. A good horse and no mistake!

CAPITOL ROSE SHOW OPENING AUGUST 10-11

Many Prizes Offered To Edmonton People For Their Efforts

Bigger and better than ever... that's the promise held out for the third annual Rose Show which will be held at the Capitol Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 10 and 11. Entries are pouring in from the city and the show will be the most important of the season.

Water Wilson, who offered, and this incentive, coupled with the fact that there is no entry fee, and the desire of entering their choice blooms, promises to establish a rose show that will go down in history.

Of note to prospective competitors is the fact that all entries must be staged by noon on Monday, the judging to commence Monday afternoon at 3 p.m. The management has secured Ernest Slater, former president of the Edmonton Horticultural Society, whose knowledge of rose is without question, unequalled.

People of Edmonton and district who attend the Capitol during the early part of next week will have the opportunity of seeing how rose growers in both city and country have backed Manager Water Wilson's appeal to make Edmonton the "Rose City."

It should be mentioned, however, that this achievement could not have been attained without the able assistance of Alfred Pike, of Pike and Company of this city, making it possible to offer first class rose bushes at especially low prices through the Capitol Theatre coupon deal.

For Best Rose

Queen Of Flowers Will Be On Display at the Capitol

By CYRIL HORRORIN

The rose, known as the Queen of flowers, is fast becoming the favorite among Edmonton's flower gardeners, and small wonder when one visits these gardens and sees the grand show they make.

One rose enthusiast, living in the heart of the city in an apartment house, has roses blooming on bushes planted in boxes outside of his window.

Visitors to the Capitol theatre rose show on Monday next will have a fine opportunity to see some of these fine blooms. Several of the roses to be shown have been grown on bushes originating from British Columbia, Scotland, England and Holland, where some of the finest roses in the world are produced, but Edmonton gardeners are growing blooms every bit as good as those grown in the motherland.

Some of the credit for the keen interest shown in the growing of roses by Edmontonians goes to Mr. Water Wilson, whose enthusiasm and his radio talks has taught the people that roses are not only grown successfully in this northern province.

Arctic Eskimos Are Facing Starvation

JUNEAU, Alaska, Aug. 7.—Eskimos along the Arctic rim are facing starvation, said a message from Capt. C. D. Peterson, veteran Arctic trader, to the governor's office from Herschel Island Thursday.

Some of the natives, Peterson said, were in a seriously weakened condition and their number are dying. The Arctic island situation is particularly serious, 275 miles east of Barrow, along the Arctic coast.

OTTAWA, Aug. 7.—"No such condition exists among Canadian Eskimos," an official of the interior department said here last night in commenting on reports from Juneau, Alaska, that Eskimos along the Arctic rim are starving.

Reports reaching the department about Canadian Eskimos said "while full in the north are making out alright," the official added.
